The Last Detail launches new Afternoon Tea-themed party decorations range

A new range of 'Afternoon Tea' themed tableware, candles and party decorations has been launched by The Last Detail, in response to growing demand from brides choosing this popular 2008 wedding theme.

From 'dainty doilies' and cupcake holders to 'gorgeous garlands', the range features over 12 co-ordinating items that are perfect for both English tea party-themed receptions or bridal showers. In a variety of baby pastel-tones the range is also ideal for anyone planning an outdoor Spring or Summer wedding.

Kaley Gardiner, founder of The Last Detail, highlights some of her favourite items:

'Gorgeous garland' – this fabulously colourful garland works as well for indoor celebrations as out, bringing a party atmosphere into any room or garden.

'Crazy candles' – these miniature jelly bean candles look good enough to eat and are perfect to brighten up cupcakes or puddings.

'Brilliant bubbles' – these bubbles are a fun addition to any occasion – for young and old guests! Plus they're a great alternative to confetti as they show up on photographs and don't leave any mess.

'Party bags' – if you want to give your guests a treat to take home with them, these pretty party bags are a lovely alternative to traditional favour boxes. Big enough to fit in a large slice of cake and a small gift!

All items are available from www.thelastdetail.co.uk and can be found under the 'Party Fun' section. Prices start at £2.00 for 2 heart-shaped paper decorations to £6.50 for a pack of 3 sizzling sparklers.
