Glamorous monochrome table accessories from The Last Detail

For brides who love the sophistication of monochrome, The Last Detail's new range of table accessories provides the perfect finishing touches to black and white themed weddings. From place cards to table games, the 'After Dark' range is guaranteed to impress guests.

Get the conversation flowing with fancy fortune tellers or table trivia – each trivia box contains 60 cards with a variety of subjects to debate or discuss.

The nostalgic 'fancy fortune tellers', reminiscent of schooldays, are a great hit for family and friends who remember creating their own versions back in the playground. The person on the receiving end chooses a fortune which reveals amusing trivia questions or funny dares to perform.

Personal place cards not only advise guests where to sit but also feature 16 attributes from 'clever' to 'gorgeous' allowing you to describe each person's character.

The sophisticated crackers make a great alternative to favours, each containing a silver gift such as a photo frame as well as a black tissue paper hat, a pack of trivia containing general knowledge questions and a paper glass marker. Each cracker is beautifully finished with black satin ribbon tied around either end.

The elegant cone shaped posh poppers not only look the part as their name suggests but also contain reams of silver foil streamers to help celebrate in style. Ice fountains designed for placing in puddings and cakes or indoor sparklers add the final celebratory touches.

Prices range from £1.99 for a tube of small silver sparklers to £11.99 for a pack of six sophisticated crackers.

All products are available to order online at www.thelastdetail.co.uk and can be found under the 'party fun' section.
